DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) The invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 18-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by WO 02/34542 A1.

With respect to claim 18, WO'542 discloses (see Abstract and Figs 2-3) an apparatus for producing photographic-quality prints (see page 1, paragraph 1), comprising an imager (6) for providing an image surface of transparent (see page 12, line 16) carrier; and an undercoat module for applying a particle-based undercoat to the surface of the transfer carrier (coating applied to the reverse side of the substrate, see page 18, lines 5-10), such that at least the portion of the image is between the transparent carrier and the particle based undercoat (see Fig 2 wherein the transfer coating 3 covering film 1 carrying image).

As to claim 19, WO'542 discloses the imager comprising an inkjet engine (ink-jet printer, see page 22, lines 10-14).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 02/34542 A1 as applied to claim 18 above and further in view of Bryan et al (US 6,215, 508). WO'542 lacks teaching an imager capable of providing a reverse image.

Art Unit: 1734

However, an imager providing a reverse image on the transparent carrier is well known in the art to visually observe letters and images from the back surface of the printed face; for instance – Bryan et al discloses (see Fig10a and 10b) a reverse image printer 200. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include a reverse image printer in WO'542 to create multi-image capability.
